Defendants.

Plaintiff Timothy Wallace Sherno filed this action alleging impermissible retrievals by local law enforcement personnel, other public employees, and Minnesota corporations of his private motor vehicle record data maintained by the Minnesota Department of Public Safety (“DPS”). Sherno’s complaint is one of numerous analogous complaints recently filed in this district and centered on alleged violations of the Driver’s Privacy Protection Act (“DPPA”), 18 U.S.C. § 2721 et seq. See Roschen v. Wabasha County, Civ. No. 13-2490, 2014 WL 3105032, at *2 n.4 (D. Minn. June 26, 2014) (counting 28 such cases and noting that many of the complaints have been dismissed in whole or in part). Wallace’s complaint alleges that personnel affiliated with each of the named entity Defendants accessed his private information without a proper purpose at least one time and collectively approximately four hundred thirty times between 2003 and 2013. The complaint also names the former and current DPS Commissioners, Michael Campion and Ramona Dohman, as Defendants.

According to his complaint, Sherno “anchored the morning news at KMSP-TV in Eden Prairie, Minnesota from 1999 through 2005.” Compl. ¶ 117. “Since September 2006, Sherno has worked as a reporter at 5 EYEWITNESS NEWS in the Twin Cities.” Compl. ¶ 120. With the exception of Edina, the complaint alleges that Sherno has never been charged with or suspected of committing a crime in the jurisdictions represented by the entity Defendants and that he has never been involved in any civil, criminal, administrative, or arbitral proceedings involving Defendants. Sherno disclaims the existence of any legitimate reason for the retrievals of his personal information by these entities and their personnel. Regarding Edina, Sherno concedes that he “had a few encounters with Edina law-enforcement,” but he asserts that he is suing Edina over obtainments of his personal information that were unrelated to any legitimate government function. Compl. ¶¶ 243-44. Based on these allegations, Sherno’s complaint asserts one count for violations of the DPPA.

All named Defendants have moved to dismiss Sherno’s complaint for failure to state a claim, pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6) and/or for judgment on the pleadings pursuant to Rule 12(c). Many have requested severance of the claims against them in the alternative. Those motions are presently before the Court. The issues raised by the motions have been extensively discussed in connection with other DPPA cases and need not be repeated in detail here.

Wallace's complaint fails to state a DPPA claim against any Defendant. His DPPA claims based on retrievals of his data that occurred more than four years before the filing of his complaint on April 4, 2014, are barred by the applicable statute of limitations. See Potocnik v. Carlson, Civ. No. 13-2093, 2014 WL 1206403, at *8-12 (D. Minn. Mar. 24, 2014); Kost v. Hunt, 983 F. Supp. 2d 1121, 1126-30 (D. Minn. 2013). His DPPA claims against the DPS Commissioners stem from his allegations that they failed to adequately control and monitor access to his private data, but such allegations fail to state a violation of the DPPA. See Kendall v. Anoka County, Civ. No. 14-247, 2014 WL 3955265, at *3 (D. Minn. Aug. 13, 2014); Kiminski v. Hunt, Civ. No. 13-185, 2013 WL 6872425, at *5-9 (D. Minn. Sept. 20, 2013). For any remaining claims, the allegations are not materially distinguishable from those of the news anchor and sports reporter whose claims were dismissed in Mitchell v. Aitkin County, Civil No. 13-2167, 2014 WL 835129 (D. Minn. Mar. 4, 2014). These claims will be dismissed for the reasons stated in Mitchell.

Therefore, Defendants' motions to dismiss and motion for judgment on the pleadings will be granted.
